CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

2009/2010

The Commission's Annual Report for the review year fulsomely presents the wide ranging activities it undertook in fulfilling its mandate functions. Once again it was my privilege to lead the Commission.

Horse-racing is an international activity and one prime area of focus in the year under review was in the international arena. Newly appointed State Minister for racing, Senator the Hon. Arthur Williams, had the opportunity of seeing first-hand modern international horse racing operations at Woodbine Racetrack in Toronto, Canada and at Gulfstream Park, Hallandale, Florida. He also visited the impressive Palm Meadows training facility in Boca Raton, Florida, built by Magna Corporation to provide additional stabling and accommodation for horses taking entry at its Gulfstream Park meet and shipping in. The facility is state of the art; has both dirt and grass tracks, dormitories for Trainers and Grooms and boasts its own unit for composting bedding, and a bio-digester for the processing of waste.

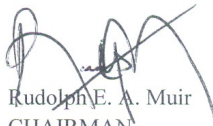

The visit to the Woodbine facility proved to be particularly instructive because that racetrack was built around the same year as Caymanas Park (1959) and thus the responses of the Canadian authorities to fairly similar challenges faced by Jamaica viz: the maintenance and improvement of an aging facility, provided useful insights. Also eye-opening were the plans for the further modernization of the facility, presented in scalar model, integrating shopping malls, dwelling and town houses with dining and entertainment offerings within a 500 acre complex. This development is scheduled to commence in 2010.

The international focus continued in the year with the accreditation of two (2) of the Commission's Operations' Stewards; participation by Officers in meetings of the Caribbean Racing Confederation and attendance by the General Manager and the Chairman at meetings of the Board of Directors of the Association of Racing Commissioners' International (ARCI) which coincided with the annual Symposium on racing held in Arizona, USA in the first week in December.

The activities presented in this report attest to the robustness of the Commission's role and function, much of which is outside of public view. However we dare not rest on our laurels because keeping abreast with scientific developments in the quest to thwart the efforts of those who would wish to influence the results of races by means of the administration of the latest drug requires our consistent efforts and committed expenditure as it does in the Commission's other approaches to regulation.

In this regard the strides being made in the area of the Commission's drug testing laboratory are particularly pleasing. Equally pleasing were the Hall of Fame inductions which took place in this year.

Thanks go out to the dedicated Officers and staff; Commissioners, Tribunal and Committee Members, without whom none of the Commissions' achievements would have been possible.

CHAPTER 1

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The primary goals of the Commission are to build a strong and credible industry and to serve as the central racing body on which the industry and the public can depend to preserve and maintain high standards of sport, honesty and fair play, and to promote the health and safety of the animals and personnel involved in racing.

The Commission's main objectives during the year under review were to:

- maintain the development of horseracing in Jamaica
- maintain close supervision of the operations of race meetings to assure the public and the competing owners of horses and other participants that race meetings are conducted fairly by responsible management;
- ensure proper registration and identification of horses in conformity with international standards, to institute measures to protect animal health and welfare and the production of the Jamaica Stud Book;
- continue welfare and training programmes for persons in the industry and ensure the maintenance of a comprehensive Insurance Scheme for persons holding occupational permits;
- improve the standard of professionalism in racing by providing training courses for future jockeys and trainers;
- ensure that horses are fit to race and are allowed to run on their merit;
- prevent and detect the use of prohibited substances in competing horses;
- establish criteria and grant occupational permits/licenses;
- ensure that applicants for registration as racehorse owners are of good character and with sufficient means to maintain their horses in training;

- advise Government on the extent of subsidies in support of horse racing and breeding and administer subsidies approved;
- act as coordinator between the various groups in the industry and adjudicate on complaints, objections and appeals received from persons in relation to horse racing;
- maintain racing and breeding statistics and disseminate them to the public locally and internationally;
- maintain and strengthen links with the Caribbean racing countries and other racing jurisdictions.

CHAPTER 2

2.1 PUBLIC SUPPORT

Horsereading promoted locally by Caymanas Track limited (CTL) at the single racetrack on the island continued to attract wide public support. The promoter not only put on local race meetings but simulcasted races from the United States and the United Kingdom and transmitted these races local and overseas via satellite to their sixty-six off-track Betting Parlours across the island.

During the period under review CTL conducted eighty (80) local race meets and Three Hundred and Eight (308) days of simulcast races.

CTL held two Sunday race meetings one in November and the other in December 2009 which saw huge crowds in attendance. On November 29, 16,000 were in attendance contributing a handle of $17.9M from 8 races with no contribution from CTL's. Sixty-three Off Track Betting (OTB) parlors which were not allowed to open. As the OTB's normally contribute approximately 70% of the company's overall sales during a race meet it was not considered feasible to continue with the Sunday racing experiment.

3.3 REGULATORY

Some areas that received special attention during the period include the following:

- (1) The continuous administration of the Jamaica Racing Commission Racing Rules 1977 including amendments to the existing ones. Some amendments which had been made in the previous year were this year repealed following protests from horsemen. The new additions were, rules numbered 33, 87 and 92L while those repealed were 19, 34(3), 80(a), 94 (4), 117(4), 142, 150, 157, 158, 161A (iii), 161A (v), 240, 253 (i), 253 (ii), 253(iii), 253 (iv), 253 (v), 253(vii), 253 (viii), 253 (ix), 253 (x) and 253 (xii).

3.4 REGISTRATION/LICENCES/PERMITS

The Commission continued to discharge its responsibility under the Jamaica Racing Commission act 1972 and the Jamaica Racing Commission Racing Rules 1977 in relation to the issuing of licenses and permits. At March 31, 2010 a total of 527 permits and licenses for members of the occupational group had been issued. This is broken down as follows:

OCCUPATIONAL GROUP	2009/2010	2008/2009
Trainers	135	111
Assistant Trainers	35	40
Jockeys	77	63
Apprentice Jockeys	2	1
Grooms	241	248
Stable Assistants	14	8
Exercise Rider	10	27
Farriers	9	-
Assistant Farriers	4	-

The total number of owners registered at the end of the period was as follows:

OWNERS	2009/2010	2008/2009
Owners (Individuals)	486	659
Owners (Registered Companies)	8	8
Owners (Veterinarians)	4	0
Owners' Agents	6	7

When compared with the previous year the total for individuals is much less (486 as opposed to 659). This is however normal as March 31, 2010 represents the end of month two (2) of a 24 month licensing period and some owners do not renew their registration unless they have a horse in training.

3.5 PROMOTING COMPANY

3.5.1 Racedays

The promoter, Caymanas Track Limited again applied for permission to conduct races on 82 days, which the Commission approved.

3.5.2 Review of Racing Programmes

The Operations Stewards to whom the Commission delegated the responsibility to monitor, and ensure that all horses and persons who participated in races were eligible, performed their duties in a judicious manner. This task (which is very critical in the management of race meetings) ensured fairness and adherence to the Rules of Racing 1977.

3.6 VETERINARY

3.6.1 Veterinary “On Call” System

The veterinary “on call” system (introduced by the Commission in the 1990s) continued to ensure that horses declared to race, were legitimately withdrawn on racedays. The system requires that all declared horses which become sick or lame subsequent to the close of entries, be examined by that Jamaica Racing Commission Veterinarian, who would then report his or her finding to the Stewards of the meeting, along with appropriate recommendations. During the period under review a total of 96 such visits were made.

3.7 REVIEW OF RACEDAY FILMS

The Stewards continued their weekly review of races and conducted hearings into riding infringements as well as investigations into breaches or possible breaches of the rules. Below is a table of hearings with jockeys conducted and the actions taken.

No. of Summons issued	Penalties
	Suspension (Racedays)	Fines
150	174	$131,500.00

3.8 OBSERVATION COMMITTEE

The Observation Committee continued its review of films of races, advising the Stewards of their findings. The Stewards would then, (if not already done) conduct further investigations

3.9 EQUINE DRUG TESTING PROGRAMME

The Veterinary Department continued its professional management of the equine sample collection centre (Testing Barn) which allowed it to maintain the status of being a very critical element in protecting the integrity of horseracing in Jamaica. The centre supervised the collection and preliminary processing of 1,686 urine and 1,452 blood samples. After these were analyzed by the Racing chemist, six (6) were reported as being positive for prohibited substances as under:

Lidocaine	-	2
Ephedrine	-	2
Diclofenac	-	1
Chlorpheniramine	-	1

3.10 REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT

The Operations Stewards in their management of the Registration Department endeavoured to continue the process of improving the ways in which the department functioned. A tally of applications and documents processed by the department during the period is set out below:

(a) applications for the registration of native bred horses

3.11 JAMAICA STUD BOOK

Work on volume XV continued throughout the year and was scheduled for completion by 31st December, 2010.

CHAPTER 4

PROTECTIVE MEASURES

The Commission and Track Veterinarians continued to be vigilant in the area of “pre and post race” examination of all horses declared to race, with a view to detecting lameness and other chronic problems present. This offered additional protection to the horses, owners, trainers, jockeys, grooms as well as punters, by assisting in the prevention of serious injuries to man and beast. This ultimately amounted to financial savings for all parties.

4.1 CULLING

These veterinarians also conducted other examinations (periodically) of the horse population at Caymanas Park, to identify chronically lame horses. These in addition to horses aged eight years and older, that have not earned any purse in the preceding twenty-four (24) months, were culled from racing at December 31, 2009. The number culled for this period was nineteen (19).

4.2 VACCINATION

The Commission’s Veterinarians and Operations Stewards maintained their vigilance in the monitoring of the program which seeks to ensure that each horse entering and those housed at Caymanas Park, have been properly vaccinated, and that the expiry date of each vaccination has not been exceeded.

4.3 HORSE WELFARE

There were no reports, during the period under review, of any horse being abandoned. This may be attributed to the Jamaica Racing Commission publishing on a regular basis; advisories on how to retire or re-home horses that were no longer able to race.

4.4 MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR JOCKEYS AND EXERCISE RIDERS

The Welfare Officer with the assistance of Caymanas Track Limited’s surgeons and other presenters continued to counsel members of the Occupational Group on the benefits of a healthy and drug free lifestyle. Drug testing of all Jockeys and Exercise Riders was also continued. The use of safety helmets, vests and boots was continuously monitored by the Stewards, Welfare Officer as well as Caymanas Track Limited’s race day and non-race day officials.

CHAPTER 5

VETERINARY SERVICES

Three significant events characterized the success of the Veterinary Department for the 2009/2010 financial year:

1. Completion of the Trainers' Training Programme for the class of 2009.
2. Recommendations on cost recovery measures to finance the Drug Testing Programme.
3. Hosting of the Association of Official Racing Chemist (AORC) International Conference in October at Sandals Grande in Ocho Rios.

Apart from these major events, the year was mostly uneventful. Two events which began in earnest in 2008 continued with the same level of success. In the case of micro chipping of all horses and the random sampling of horses for the Drug Testing Programme which has resulted in a significant reduction in the number of positives reported during the period under review.

5.1 REVIEW OF ACTIVITIES

5.1.1 LASIX

During the year the following inductions to the Hall of Fame of Thoroughbred Racing were announced:

His career yielded 26 starts and stakes of US$75,186.

7.2.2. CATEGORY B – TRAINERS

WAYNE ANTHONY DACOSTA

A good racehorse trainer is one who has the skill, patience and ability to teach a wide array of horses with differing personalities using both traditional and non-traditional techniques. He must also be able to communicate effectively with horses and human beings, have professional qualities and keen business acumen. These are the distinctive qualities of the extraordinary trainer Wayne Anthony DaCosta, who was granted his Trainers' permit in 1976.

He began his career as an assistant to Philip Feanny 1973-1976 and got his first real taste of success not as a trainer, but as an owner, when HIS WINDSOR, trained by Feanny, won a week after the purchase.

DaCosta himself might tell you his greatest training feat was THORNBIRD's 4th place finish by 2 ½ lengths in the Caribbean Classic in Panama in 1984, 25 years ago. A eight time Champion Trainer who holds the record of most wins in a season that of 108 set in 2002 and second best total of 98 wins in 2003.

Wayne DaCosta has earned the most stakes in local horse racing history up to Saturday, June 6, 2009. He has posted 5769 starts, with 1,465 wins, 2nd on the all time list of wins among trainers in local history.

7.2.3. CATEGORY C – JOCKEYS

HUBERT RAY BARTLEY

Hubert is correctly regarded as one of the best jockeys to ride at Caymanas Park. His streak of top-five finishes in the jockeys' standings is testimony to the talent and success of Bartley as one of Jamaica's premier jockeys. To date, his win total stands at Seven Hundred and Fifty placing him 6th all-time amongst jockeys in Jamaica.

Amongst his most noteworthy achievements is his victory in the Jamaica Derby in 1991 with "Poor Little Rich Girl" and also in the 1997 Derby with "Mr. Lover Lover". He also has the distinction of winning the Jamaica St. Leger six times including 4 years in a row (1983-1986) astride "Our Secret", "My Apology", "D's A Legend" and "Persian Invader", respectively. He has also won the 1000 Guineas on four occasions. This internationally recognized jockey also rode in Barbados and Toronto, Canada.

7.2.4 CATEGORY D – GROOMS

RAPHAEL ‘PINTO’ SMITH

Born on July 19, 1939, Mr. Raphael Smith has spent the greater part of his life serving in the field of horse racing. He started in racing as a jockey in 1955 at Knutsford Park and also raced at Little Ascot in Old Harbour. As an apprentice to trainer Aston Cammock that year he finished joint-5th with Neville Cousley in the jockey’s standings behind champion jockey Barrington Smith. The beginning for Raphael Smith was promising

In 1958, he finished 3rd in the jockey standings for that year, behind champion Barrington Smith. Raphael Smith rode some of the most renowned horses at Knutsford Park, Little Ascot and at Caymanas Park. Noteworthy among these was “Cardigan”, winner of the Nursery Handicap of 1958 and “Father Christmas” with whom he won the two 2-Year Old stakes of 1958 and the 2000 Guineas of 1959, which was the first classic race to be run at Caymanas Park.

It is said that through setbacks one’s perseverance is tested and proven. Raphael Smith was an extremely competent rider and could have gone further in his riding career, had he not faced challenges with his health. He decided to remain in the sport he loved despite looming personal setbacks and eventually became a groom, first being associated with trainer Larry Silvera and also worked with the likes of Kingsley Rose, Dennis Sasso, Jackson Hong, Dennis Lee and now Vin Edwards.

“Pinto” has faithfully and successfully groomed some outstanding horses such as “Flash Point” to worthwhile victory. “Flash Point” was victorious some 25 times while being cared for by Smith. Pinto was also the groom of the 1986 Jamaica Oaks winner “Manuscript”.

7.2.5. CATEGORY E – OTHER RACING PERSONALITIES

i) RITA HYACINTH MCKENZIE

Women have always played an important role in racing even though it is traditionally considered a male-dominated sport. Mrs. Rita Hyacinth McKenzie is one woman whose strength and perseverance is noteworthy. Her achievements and tenacity have made her renowned and highly respected personality in Jamaica's racing community. For five decades she has contributed immensely to the industry. It is difficult to decipher when she started her racing career for she truly was born into the sport. A lover of horses herself, she holds fond memories of going to the stables as a young girl. Her affection for horses was fostered through her father and brother who both had careers in the sport.

Rita McKenzie is today the matriarch of one of Jamaica's oldest racing families. It is through horse racing that her entire family has made their living. Mrs. McKenzie is the widow of the late Alty McKenzie who trained horses at multiple tracks in Jamaica with some success. Rita has the enviable distinction of being the premier racing "mother" of the backstretch of Jamaica's horse racing industry.

The achievement of impact however, of this renowned racing personality may well be her contribution as a top class seamstress. She began sewing colours for jockeys as a hobby but it soon became a staple for the racing fraternity to employ her to produce racing colours, thus a further career in racing was born, which she has faithfully executed for over fifty years and continues to do so today. During the decades from the 1950's, to 1990's, there was almost not a horse to race or a jockey to ride at Caymanas whose colours were not crafted by Mrs. Rita McKenzie. She valued her repute for quality, efficiency and precision and so did her many colleagues

Rita McKenzie continues her unwavering and dedicated service to the horse racing industry. Notwithstanding her individual achievements, she regards the achievements of her four sons her greatest success. This is testament to the claim that she is the mother of horse racing in Jamaica, which will be her legacy.

ii) HUGH ABEL LEVY

His love of racing began in 1947 when he started watching early morning gallops at Knutsford Park. This fascination with the grace and power of the thoroughbred racehorse in action, resulted firstly in his faithful attendance on racedays whether at Knutsford Park or Little Ascot then later at Caymanas Park.

The attraction soon moved him from the status of observer to owner in 1958. Among the horses raced by Mr. Levy were HIALEAH, GULF STREAM, ANDANTE, XANADU, OLYMPIC GOLD, AQUEDUCT, DESERT QUEEN, PRIMAVERA, SANTA ANITA, MISS JAMAICA, PRINCESS LANCASTER, with his winningest horse being PURPLE REIN (over 20 wins) and more recently SEDUCTION, INEVITABLE and TOUCHDOWN.

Mr. Levy soon moved from the rank of owner to breeder as most of the horses raced by him were progenies of his previous runners. This talented and distinguished Jamaican, Attorney-at-Law by profession, was not just content with enjoying the sport he loves but gave and is still giving his time and experience to the administration of the racing industry by serving in various capacities.

He first became a member of the Jockey Club of Jamaica in 1972, which until the advent of the Jamaica Racing Commission, had the responsibility for the management of horseracing in Jamaica. His loyalty to the club continued and in 1984 he was elected a Steward of the Jockey Club. This distinguished and dedicated service next saw him being accorded the status of President of the Jockey Club in 1992, the position which he currently holds.

During this period his dedicated and unselfish service to horseracing in Jamaica, has seen him serving as the Chairman of Racing Promotions Limited and as a member of the Jamaica Racing Commission.

CHAPTER 10

INTERNATIONAL AFFILIATIONS

10.1 MEMBERSHIP/ ASSOCIATIONS

Jamaica's participation internationally in several thoroughbred horseracing organizations continues. The level of involvement varies from organization to organization.

We hold membership in the following international and regional organizations namely:

- Association of Racing Commissioners International (ARCI)
- Caribbean Racing Confederation (CRC)
- Association of Official Racing Chemists (AORC)

These organizations provide the avenue for the exchange of racing information and ideas for improvement in the administration and management of horseracing and breeding. In addition, organizations such as CRC promote international horseracing events to which member countries are invited thus providing the opportunity to gain international racing exposure derived from international participation this adding great value to our racing and in particular our breeding industry.

The Commission, in an effort to remain relevant and to keep abreast of international developments in racing must also interface with several racing organizations, namely:

- The Jockey Club of North America
- Weatherbys – Great Britain
- The International Stud Book Committee (ISBC)
- International Cataloguing Standard Committee – France
- International Federation of Horseracing Authorities (IFHA)
- The Jockey Club Information System
- Bloodstock Research Information Services Inc.
- Equibase Company
- Trinidad & Tobago Racing Authority (TTRA)
- Barbados Turf Club (BTC)
- American Association of Equine Practitioners (AAEP)
- Association of Official Racing Chemists (AORC)
- Racing Commissions Regulators of North American States, Britain and Ireland

In addition to numerous racetracks and racing regulators/Commissions in other racing jurisdictions throughout the world, from time to time.

Organizations such as those listed above provide accepted industry standards, information for the movement of horses, authentication of identity and pedigree of horses, drug testing technology and numerous other racing related matters.

The main benefits derived from Jamaica's involvement with those international and regional organizations are in the areas of:

- Training
- Access to information and services
- Access to racing technology

Jamaica's four Stewards have been internationally accredited as Racing Stewards and each attends courses every two year in order to maintain that accreditation.

Jamaica has also fully established itself on the Worldwide Racing Hub website, operated by the Jockey Club Information Services Inc., giving information such as breeding, breeding methods such as nicks, racing and other statistics for all horses running in some twenty-three (23) member countries such as United States, England, Ireland, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Germany, Hong Kong, Saudi Arabia, South Africa and now Jamaica.

The Commission also maintains a relationship with organizations which provide specific scientific services to the horseracing industry and to horseracing regulations in particular. These are:

- University of Lexington – Veterinary Science Department
- The Gluck Equine Research Centre – Lexington Kentucky
- University of the West Indies – Chemistry Department
- University of Florida – Laboratory, Gainesville, Florida
- Ohio State University – Laboratory
- University of Louisville, College of Business – Accreditation of Stewards

These organizations provide services in the areas of Bloodtyping, DNA Genetic testing, parentage verification, Equine Drug testing, and Equine Research and training.

The Jamaica Racing Commission is now in the final stages of having its equine drug testing laboratory at the University of the West Indies- Chemistry Department internationally accredited as a drug testing institution. This process is being done through the Jamaica National Agency for Accreditation (JANAAC), an affiliate of the International Laboratory Accreditation Co-operation (ILAC) and the Inter-American Accreditation Co-operation (IAAC).

Jamaica, through the efforts of the Jamaica Racing Commission –Veterinary Department was instrumental in hosting the Annual meeting of the Association of Official Racing Chemist (AORC) in Ocho Rios, October 16-19, 2009. The Association of Official Racing Chemists (AORC) has membership in countries such as Argentina, Belgium, Canada, Dubai, Korea, Turkey, United Kingdom, United States of America and Jamaica. As a part of this conference, the participants also attended the Jamaica Racing Commission’s Drug Testing Laboratory at the University of the West Indies and the Caymanas Park Racecourse drug testing facility.

The Annual thoroughbred yearling sales conducted by Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association of Jamaica (TOBA) was very successful. Once again members of the Racing Fraternity of the English Speaking Caribbean Islands namely, Barbados and Trinidad were in attendance.

There were 213 foals catalogued for sale of which 190 were eventually offered for sale. However, 171 were finally sold, a decrease of 0.58% over last year’s figure of 172 sold. The number of foals catalogued was 11 less than in 2008, however, the number sold shows a fall off of only 1 foal.

The highest price paid for a yearling is now $2.8 Million up from last year’s figure of $2.7 Million. This price was paid for a chestnut colt by *TRADITIONAL (USA) out of MELISSA SONG consigned by HAM Stables Limited and purchased by M.C Sanlalsingh of Trinidad and Tobago.

Gross sales for 2009 Yearling Sales were $106.60 Million, an increase of 1.69% over the 2008 figures. Average sale price was also up by 2.28% to $623,392.00 and median price up by 11.11% to $500,000.00

The usual participation by Caribbean horses in major regional races such as:

- Barbados' Sandy Lane Gold Cup;
- Trinidad's Royal Oak Derby;
- Jamaica's Red Stripe Superstakes;

was limited, however Jamaican horses such as BRUCEONTHELOOSE participated in several races in Trinidad including the Trinidad Derby which he won. This is the second straight year that a Jamaican horse has won the Trinidad Derby and the sixth overall.

Jamaica continues its membership in the Caribbean Racing Confederation however, no Jamaican horse participated in the Caribbean Classic for 3 year olds or the confraternity Cup in December, 2009.

With the final decision taken in June 2009 that the hosting of the Caribbean Classic and its contingent races will now rotate between member countries effective December 2010, commencing with Venezuela in December 2010, an approach has been made to the Jamaica Veterinary Division to review its protocol for our horses to enter and more importantly return from countries such as Dominican Republic, Mexico, Panama and Venezuela. This process is currently ongoing.

10.2 SUPERSTAKES

The thirty-first (2009) renewal of the Superstakes Raceday was held on Saturday, 14th November 2009. This raceday was sponsored by Amalgamated Distributor Limited.

Superstakes day saw the running of:
